English for Beginners

Learn to Speak and Write Confidently

Today's Lesson

- $_{\odot}~$ You will master the use of English for Travel
- You will learn specific Phrases from Around the World
- You will explore Spoken English Using Idioms

- \circ Summary
- o Next Steps
- Q & A

Agenda

shawacademy

English for Travel

English for Travel

shawacademy

English for Travel

s shawacademy

- I have. It was amazing!
- I have visited Paris before and saw it then.
- I've been here 4 days and still haven't seen it.

- I haven't been home for 6 weeks now.
- I've visited India, Egypt, and now France.
 - I've seen the Taj Mahal, the Pyramids, and the Eiffel Tower.

....

Have you seen the Arc de Triomphe? How long have you been away from home?

English for Travel

Present

Perfect

• I haven't been home for 6 weeks now.

- I've visited India, Egypt, and now France.
 - I've seen the Taj Mahal, the Pyramids, and the Eiffel Tower.

Used to talk about a duration from the past until now or to talk about an unspecified time in the past

Form

Subject + have/has + verb (past participle)

) driven worked gotten

Further Examples

> "Jack has taken 3 trains so far." "I've met so many nice people." "Man has walked on the Moon." "I have taught in Saudi Arabia."

Negatives

&

Questions

"Jack hasn't taken any trains." "I haven't met any mean people."

"Has your father walked on the moon?" "Have you visited Mecca?"

Which of these sentences is incorrect?

- My brother has lived in Australia since 2012.
- I've visited him twice.

Our dog hasn't see him since then.

• The house has been very quiet without him.

Our dog hasn't seen him since then.

s shawacademy

s shawacademy

- 375 million English speakers worldwide
- 1.5 billion English learners worldwide
- Official language in +50 countries

- Mother tongue in +30 countries
- Ireland, UK, Australia, USA, etc.

(phrases)

what's the craic? = how are you?
/ what's happening?
sure look = anyway
donkey's years = a long time

(nouns)

craic = fun the jacks = the toilet a press = a cupboard the guards = the police an eejit = an idiot lad = man / boy

(adjectives)

grand = ok / fine / great knackered = tired deadly = brilliant

(adverbs) quare = very

- Sure look, I'll see you later.
- I haven't been there in donkey's years.
- Could you get the tea from the press?
- I've been working all day. I'm knackered!
- The weather is quare bad out there.

shawacademy

(phrases)

all right? = hello / how are you? Bob's your uncle! = There you go! / you've got it! cheerio = bye!

(nouns)

grub = food a kip = a short sleep / a nap mate = friend porkies = lies

(adjectives)

dodgy = not to be trusted gobsmacked = amazed smashing = brilliant minted = rich tickety-boo = fantastic

- Click on the 'Go to Webinar' button and Bob's your uncle!
- I'm going to have a kip after lunch.
- Don't tell me porkies!
- That dinner was absolutely smashing!
- Everything's tickety-boo in my life.

shawacademy

(phrases)

what's up? = how are you? 'sup? = what's up?

(verbs)

to bail = leave quickly to screw up = make a mistake

(nouns)

dude = friend garbage can / trash can = bin

(adjectives)

easy as pie = very easy sweet = great awesome = brilliant beat = tired

(interjections)

shut the front door! = really?

- I finished my work and bailed.
- I really screwed up in that exam.
- What? I thought it was easy as pie!
- That was a long day, I'm beat.
- Joe "I got the job!"
 Sam "Shut the front door!"

shawacademy

(phrases)

G'day mate! = hello you little ripper! = that's great news!

(verbs)

to yabber = to talk

(nouns)

0 0

a sheila = a girl barbie = BBQ or barbecue roo = kangaroo Aussie = person from Australia bush / outback = any area that is not a town or city togs = swim suit

(adjectives)

fair dinkum = true / real bonzer = good

(interjections)

crikey! = expresses surprise

- Bruce "I bought you a present."
 Meghan "You little ripper!"
- Who's that yabbering in class?
- Put another shrimp on the barbie.
- It's true mate, fair dinkum.
- Crikey! There's a shark in the water.

Which of these words is not used to mean 'brilliant'?

- awesome
- smashing
- fantastic

• deadly

shawacademy

Spoken English Using Idioms

shawacademy

idiom

A commonly used expression whose meaning does not relate exactly to the meaning of each word

"I wish I could go to the cinema but I'm broke!"
"I'm going to be broke after my vacation."

- "I'm sure it would have been easy as pie if I studied."

١.

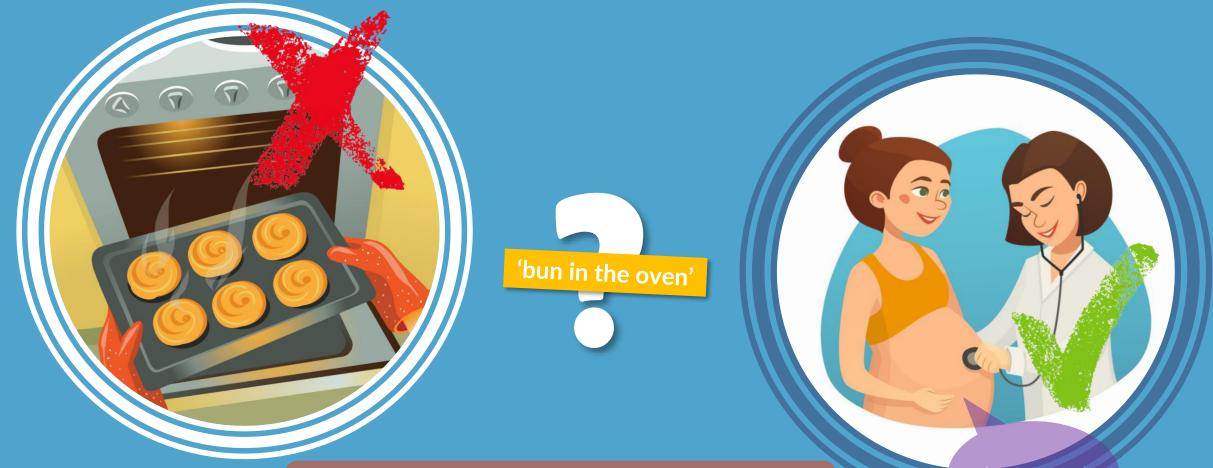

s shawacademy

'head over heels'

- "I met my husband 20 years ago and am still head over heels for him."

- "You should only get married if you're head over heels."

- "We're so happy that Lisa has a bun in the oven."

'pregnant'

- "No wine for me thanks. I've a bun in the oven."

Which of these expressions means to have no money?

- pregnant
- head over heels
- easy as pie

Lesson 6 Summary

- ✓ You mastered the use of English for Travel
- ✓ You learned specific Phrases from Around the World
- ✓ You explored Spoken English Using Idioms